An Intersection of Faith and Philanthropy
2021 GIFT PLANNING COUNCIL CONFERENCE

November 18–19, 2021
Church Office Building • Salt Lake City, Utah

That faith also might increase in the earth. —DOCTRINE AND COVENANTS 1:21
Dear Gift Planning Council (GPC) members and guests,

We warmly welcome you to the Philanthropies Gift Planning Council Conference (GPCC). Our hope is that the next two days will be edifying and will inspire you, both professionally and personally. The objective of the GPCC is to help you recognize charitable-planning opportunities with your clients, to continue to educate you regarding various charitable-planning techniques and tools, and to provide information about the charitable priorities of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. We hope that as you engage with Philanthropies and Gift Planning Services as well as with the GPC, you will gain fresh insights related to estate and charitable planning that you can use and share with your clients and colleagues.

The theme for our conference this year is “An Intersection of Faith and Philanthropy.” In section 1 of the Doctrine and Covenants, we learn that a part of our labors as followers of Jesus Christ is to help faith increase in the earth (see Doctrine and Covenants 1:21). The word philanthropy comes from ancient Greek and means “love of humanity.” We chose this theme because we believe that philanthropy, the love of humanity, can play a central role in increasing faith in the earth. It can bring the giver, the recipient, and the advisor into a common mission that seeks to promote good in the world. If anything is good, it is of God and will increase faith. Despite all that has gone on in the world since we last met, people continue to give. You cannot give without some belief that your gift will be of benefit. You cannot give without faith! Over the next two days, our speakers will explore this intersection of faith and philanthropy.

Keynote speakers for this year’s presentations and activities include

- Elder Quentin L. Cook, Member of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles
- Bishop Gérald Caussé, Presiding Bishop
- Elder Clark G. Gilbert, General Authority Seventy and Commissioner of the Church Educational System
- President John S.K. Kauwe, President of BYU–Hawai‘i
- Tanis Chung-Hoon, Managing Director of the Philanthropies Department
- Brigitte Madrian, Dean of the BYU Marriott School of Business

Many other stellar speakers, including some GPC colleagues, will also present. We extend our sincere gratitude for all who have brought their talents and efforts to make this conference possible. This includes our presenters, the GPC leadership and conference planning committee, the staff at the Church Office Building and Joseph Smith Memorial Building, and Gift Planning Services at Philanthropies.

We look forward to this conference and hope you will enjoy your time here with colleagues and friends. We pray that the Spirit of the Lord will help direct us now and in the future as we strive to be faithful followers of Jesus Christ.

Warm wishes,

Todd Hallock, GPC Chair
VENUE
The Church Office Building is home to administrative support staff of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Completed in 1972, the building was designed by George Cannon Young. Since the 1970s, the Church Office Building has primarily been used by employees involved in running the operations of the Church, including communications, welfare and humanitarian work, family history and genealogy, missionary efforts, and production of Church-related materials such as print, video, and online content. The building includes the main tower with 28 floors and east and west wings of four floors each.

In April 2019, President Russell M. Nelson announced plans for the renovation of the Salt Lake Temple. The surrounding area on Temple Square and the plaza near the Church Office Building have also been undergoing renovation and restoration. Current updates are available at ChurchofJesusChrist.org/newsroom.

“This project will enhance, refresh, and beautify the temple and its surrounding grounds,” said President Nelson. “Obsolete systems within the building will be replaced. Safety and seismic concerns will be addressed. Accessibility will be enhanced so that members with limited mobility can be better accommodated.”

PARKING
Free parking for all GPCC attendees is available at the underground Conference Center parking facility. Please note the following:

- The entrance is on West Temple Street by the Conference Center. Enter in the center of the street by heading northbound on West Temple and tell the attendant you're with the Gift Planning Council Conference happening at the Church Office Building.
- Parking lots do fill quickly, and parking is not guaranteed.
- If the Conference Center parking is full or is not available, a parking attendant will be at the top of the entrance to direct you to the next best available lot.

Note: We cannot provide validation for any of the parking facilities at City Creek Center. Should you choose to park at City Creek, you will be responsible for your own parking fees.
Several of the sessions during the conference may qualify for continuing education (CE) credit. Each session is 60 minutes. Due to the variety of presentations, the large number of professional associations to which our GPC members belong, and the geographic diversity of attendees, all attendees are ultimately responsible for submitting attendance and course information to their respective certifying organizations. We are working toward preapproving the sessions listed below for CE credit in the state of Utah with the Utah State Bar and the Utah Association of Certified Public Accountants as well as with the National CFP Board. As of the time of this printing, we are waiting to hear back regarding preapproval with these organizations.

Please be aware that not all sessions will qualify for CE credit. We have applied for seven hours of CE for the Utah Bar and the Utah Association of CPAs, and six hours of CE with the CFP Board. Because of recent requirement changes by the CFP Board, the “Ethical Skills for Career Success” session will not qualify for CFP CE.

DAVID BONNER
Senior Manager, Gift Planning Services, Philanthropies
After serving as welfare missionaries in Hong Kong, Nathan and Jan Meehan felt a need to pass on the value of charitable giving to their extended family. This desire led them to establish two donor-advised funds (DAFs) with Deseret Trust Company. Through these DAFs, the Meehans have been able to receive immediate charitable-giving tax deductions on money invested while meeting later as a family to decide which charities to support.

“It’s been a wonderful experience seeing my grandsons think carefully about charitable organizations they want to support as our family makes meaningful gifts each year,” says Nathan.

If you would like information on how to use a Deseret Trust donor-advised fund to facilitate your charitable giving, contact Philanthropies Gift Planning Services at 1-877-650-5377 or giftplanning@ChurchofJesusChrist.org.
